Citizens Approve City Bonds Friday Night

A bond issue of $65,000 for street, water and sewer improvements will be presented to the voters of Canyon early in April, according to plans made Friday night at a mass meeting of interested citizens in procuring more improvements for the city of Canyon.

Mayor Andy Walsh and Commissioners Herschel Coffee and O. W. Parker were present and gave facts regarding the development of Canyon which makes a bond issue essential.

During the past year, as Mayor Walsh explains, the city had had to use its general funds to carry on improvements which must be made. At the same time this administration has been out a considerable amount of money on improvements started by the city in previous years, notably the extension of public utilities to the new armory now under construction.

At the present time the city has petitions before it for at least 21 blocks of paving, extension of water mains and sewer lines. None of this work can be done without a bond issue.

Mr. Coffee explained that it has been the policy of Canyon to hold taxes down. As a result Canyon has the lowest tax rate of any city of comparable size in Texas. Canyon's tax rate is slightly 50% under the prevailing rate collected from cities of equal size. When the last bond issue was approved by the citizens, money was borrowed at 2% interest. The Attorney General complimented Canyon on such a low interest rate, which he said was the lowest in any small town in Texas. Interest rates have advanced a little today, but Mr. Coffee believes that bonds may be sold at 2 1/4% interest.

It was pointed out that taxable values are not sufficient today to get all of the money needed at once for improvements. Over a period of years, however, the increase in taxable values will be sufficient to take care of repayment of the bonds.

The city is collecting $40,000 annually in taxes. In order to get in cash today so that improvements might be started, it would require that the tax rate be increased 125%.

On the other hand, if the property owner has a home valued at $10,000, his taxes would be increased from $37.50 to $40.00 per year, or an increase of only 6% per year for the next 15 years. The bond issue spreads the load.

The city pays one-third of the cost of paving, with the property owners on both sides bearing one-third of the cost plus curb and gutter.

Mayor Walsh stated that the sewer system is adequate for at least five more years. The city has a contract for sewer disposal which runs through 1952, and this contract may be renewed at any time. "Canyon cannot grow without this bond issue to do the work which is needed right now," stated Mr. Walsh.

When the bond election is held it will be on the basis of $35,000 for paving, which includes repair of old construction and the installation of paving on streets not now paved; and $25,000 for extension of the water and sewer system.

Mr. Walsh stated that it was not the idea of the commission to force a bond issue upon the people, but this issue was being proposed as the only way whereby money could be raised right now to do the work which was so badly needed in Canyon.

Electric Power To Be Expanded in Palo Duro Park

John McCarty was in Austin this week and secured the commitment of the Texas State Parks Board to extend the electric light lines from the lodge in Palo Duro State Park to crossing No. 1.

The cost of this extension will run around $2500, and Mr. McCarty has secured aid for about $700 toward construction of the line. The Parks Board will pay the balance of the cost out of the admission charges paid to the State at the gate.

The area around crossing No. 1 will be developed into a kiddy play ground, according to present plans. Various kinds of amusements will be installed at this section for the big summer's rush following opening of the paved road. Grading and drainage has been completed from crossing No. 1 to Cow Camp, and work is now in progress on the big hill section of the road.

Miss Pauline Brigham will be at the piano and Mrs. Lee Foster at the organ. Mrs. W. R. Wilson is the director of the group. The public is invited.

Three Bicycles at the City Hall

There are three bicycles at the City Hall in Canyon waiting for their owners to show up and claim them.

The bikes have been picked up by city cops on the streets and so far have been unclaimed. They are of no use to the city, so owners should call at once and put in their claims for the machines.

Sunrise Easter to Be Observed in the Palo Duro Park

The annual Easter Sunrise Service at the Palo Duro State Park will be observed on March 25th. This service was attended by a large group last year.

Music will be provided by the Amarillo High School Bel Canto Chorale under the direction of Alvis M. Autry. Mr. Autry will also conduct a massed choir of Easter hymns in keeping with the occasion.

A large cross will be erected on the mesa facing the Palo Duro Lodge.

When the morning service is completed, citizens are urged to return to their home churches for Easter services. During the afternoon Easter music will be broadcast at the lodge. A loud speaker at the lodge will make it possible for all visitors to hear the morning services.

Rev. Leon Hill, evangelist and well known speaker of Amarillo, will deliver the Easter morning sermon. Rev. Hill has originated several outdoor Easter observances and took the lead last year in reviving the Easter Sunrise service in the Palo Duro Park.

With the completion of the paved road in the Park early in this year, it is planned to make this the greatest Easter observance in the Panhandle.

Bank Building Is More Than Half Finished Report

More than half of the construction of the new First National Bank building has been completed according to the contractor.

The vault of the bank was run Tuesday. This construction is the most expensive part of the building, consisting of 250 tons of reinforcement steel and concrete.

The present vault doors of the bank will be taken to Dallas before the building is completed and completely modernized for use in the new building.

Part of the furniture of the bank is now being remodeled by an Amarillo firm to be placed in the new building. All of the present furniture will be used in the new building, but will be remodeled and refinished.

The contractor says now that the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of June. All of the materials are on hand for completion of the building.

Brick work is progressing rapidly. With the vault poured, it will be possible for the brick layers to proceed on all sections of the wall without interference.

Members of Bill Downing Family Share Collections and Handwork

The Canyon AAUW presents the M. S. (Bill Downing) for the sixth representative in the Family Hobbies Group Series. Families considered earlier in this project were the Roger Wheals, Bill Wilsons, Sidney Burgess, Herschel Jennings, and L. T. Campbells.

Mr. Downing is a carpenter; he likes to help people work out their own plans. Mrs. Downing's early ambition was to be an architect; now she enjoys being Bill's draftsman, and together they have drawn up the plans for about a dozen homes, which have been built according to their specifications. Mrs. Downing says often she is left at home drawing plans while Bill, Max, nineteen; Jerry, fifteen; and Shannon, nine, are out hunting.

They bring in every kind of game from cotton tail rabbits to elk. They dress their game, and Mrs. Downing cooks it. Hunting, which is the family's chief hobby, has as a side line an intense interest in guns. Long ago the ironing board closet, minus the door, was taken over to house the guns; the overflow was placed on a deer foot gun rack in Jerry's room; and then this winter four new guns have been acquired: a new deer rifle for Bill; a new shot gun for Max, and one for Jerry; and a toy double barreled shot gun for Stevie, three, who plays at shooting ducks, or deer, or coyotes, and wants his mother to pretend to cook them all for dinner. At times meals in the Downing home have to be served buffet style because guns are being taken apart and reassembled. Mrs. Downing likes jigsaw puzzles, but she leaves the screws, springs, and strange looking pieces to the big boys who always seem to find the right ones. Max, who had some metal shop training in college, has made a few new pieces for the guns.

The heads, horns, feet, and skins of deer, members of the family have killed are used as decorations, or for useful purposes. The mounted head of Bill's first deer, shot more than twenty years ago, hangs in Max's room; the head of the largest one (164 pounds), which Bill bagged in 1949, hangs in the living room. To justify this, Mrs. Downing papered a panel in pine cone design for the background. She says she is trying to convince the family they need a den for all their beautiful guns, mounted heads, feet, and skins.

They have one room with knotty pine on one wall; the other three walls are beige, and have a hand drawn border of brown chalk cattle brands. For this room the Downings made a pair of lamps with cow horns for stems, and bowls of cacti for bases.

The Downings had accumulated six deer skins, and this past year they were cluttering up the sewing closet. Mrs. Downing said she could not think up any more excuses to avoid making a deer skin jacket for the big boys — fortunately they are the same size. The jacket which she made is two-toned red and cream, complete with fringe and laced up the front in Daniel Boone fashion. From the deer skins the Downings have also made moccasins for the whole family.

Shannon wants a deer skin jacket, but Stevie will want one too. One jacket won't do, and they haven't decided just what to do about this; in the meantime they are working on deer skin gloves for the family. Mrs. Downing also likes to knit, and has knitted hose for her husband; a sweater for Fairy, Shannon's

Ceiling Prices to Go Into Effect by the End of March

Copies of ceiling price order Regulation 7, as issued by the office of Price Stabilization, are now available for retailers of clothing, shoes, housewares, furniture, textiles and general department store merchandise at the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, according to Secretary Cecil E. Massey.

Copies of the regulation will be distributed by the Chamber, Mr. Massey explained. "We cannot undertake to offer any interpretation of the order, but have secured copies of it as a service to Canyon business men."

According to other information published in connection with Regulation No. 7, every retailer covered by the order must file a pricing chart with the OPS by March 29, 1951. On and after March 29 no retailer may offer for sale the article covered by Reg. No. 7 unless he has filed the pricing chart.

On and after April 28, no retailer may do business in the above lines unless he can prove that the district price controller has received his pricing chart. It was explained that the burden of proving that the retailer has filed his pricing chart rests on the retailer not the government.

The OPS office is located in Dallas at 3306 Main Street.

Cold Wave Drops Temperature to a Low Pre-Easter

The pre-Easter cold wave hit the Panhandle Sunday, driving the mercury down to 16 degrees above zero Monday night.

Light moisture accompanied the cold wave over sections of the Panhandle, but only a trace was received in Canyon.

The cold wave continued south to the Mexican border, according to reports Tuesday morning.

Rotary Speaker In Plea For Men to Become Christians

Dr. Harry Rimmer, Willson lecturer, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon. He is giving a series of lectures at West Texas State at 10 o'clock each morning, to which the public is invited. He is one of the most forceful speakers who has been brought to this section.

Dean Walter Juniper introduced the speaker.

Dr. Rimmer is an archeologist and has spent much time in uncovering early history through this science. Archeology is one of the most unappreciated sciences, yet one of the most useful professions to all mankind, stated the speaker.

Historical facts as related in the Bible have been proven beyond question through the means of this science.

Archeology as a profession is only about 100 years old, yet in this short period of time it has answered every criticism that has been raised against the Bible. Forgotten rulers and changes of boundaries of nations have been established through the excavations which have been made by these scientists.

Out of tons of evidence which has been uncovered through extensive excavations, not a single ounce of evidence against historical facts and records which are revealed in the Bible have been disproven.

Dr. Rimmer stated that he had lived under every form of government on the face of the globe, and under the influence of every religion in America.

"In this enlightened day it is just plain smart to be a Christian," stated Mr. Rimmer in closing.

Visitors were: Murray Boston of Canyon; Rev. W. D. Reeves of Quannah; Geo. E. Erlanson, Harry C. Beck, Arnold Attebury, Albert Bruce, J. E. Bowman, L. A. Vahue, Dr. J. H. Brown, E. Kancher, Bob Brummal, Forrest Barnes, Geo. H. Hammack, Lowell Munday, all of Amarillo.

Two Candidates File For Place on Board of Trustees

The petition for Newton Crain and B. E. McCormick to become members of the board of trustees.

The term of office of C. B. Erwin and Clem Dugan will expire. Both have been members of the board since the reorganization of the school district when several common school districts were consolidated with the Canyon district.

It was not known yesterday whether there would be other candidates for the office. Neither of the two trustees had expressed an opinion on their willingness to run for re-election, according to school officials.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Base Pay Should Be Known and Increases

Practically every day you read in the daily press that such a firm has given its workers an increased pay of so many per cent, 5% to 15%. Naturally every other person in the land feels that his pay should be hiked in similar amount.

We wish that in making such a report the companies would state the original pay of the workmen who received a boost in pay.

We are told that in the textile industry that the highest pay today is about $1.25 per hour; and in the automobile factories the highest pay runs around $1.75 per hour. If these figures are correct, then the increase of 5 cents per hour or 5%; of 10% does not mean so much in the eyes of the public.

As a matter of fact, the prevailing wage scale of skilled labor around Canyon is higher than the prevailing wage scale of most of the big industrial firms. But the people are not aware of this fact. They look upon the increases allowed as something pretty terrible.

Thanks Lot For All Of Your Kindnesses

The Canyon News sustained a tragic loss last week in the death of Dan K. Usery, who was the senior member of this force. This page was printed before the death of Mr. Usery.

The News and members of Mr. Usery's family are very deeply moved and appreciative of the kindness which has been shown by the people of this community in the death of this good man.

As a result of this death, the readers expected a smaller paper last week, but we were glad to have been able to publish our standard size paper, with the same amount of news. This was due to the fact that former employees of The News came to our rescue and of so great assistance in getting out the paper.

We hope that a permanent arrangement will be announced for the future before this issue goes to press. Since we have no issue of The Prairie this week, we have a little more time to gather up the loose threads and consider the future program of the paper.

In the meanwhile, please accept our very deep thanks for your thanks — all of you good people of Randall county — and the kind words which have been spoken.

We shall carry on to the best of our ability, and hope that we continue to have your full co-operation.

Too Many Drives for Funds Worthy Causes

The American public are being called upon for too many financial drives. The public is reacting against the policy of every kind of organization which is seeking to draw money for its particular cause.

All of the causes are good, and deserve much more than the people are putting up. There is no justification in saying that we will not support these worthy causes.

Just consider, if you please, the plight of Mr. Average Citizen. The federal government is taking more of his cash in income taxes and social security; it is likely that the State of Texas will find ways to take more of his money; the local schools, the local city and the local county all need more money to meet the higher cost of operation; his church, lodge and every local institution feels that this is a good time to get more money.

Mr. Average Citizen may be a little better off today than he was a year ago — that is, his income may have increased — but likewise the demands upon his purse have increased and increased and increased. As a result of all these increases chances are that he has less cash at the end of the month or end of the year than he had a few years back when he worked at a lower income.

We have always held to the theory that it made no difference as to the amount of money Mr. Average Citizen took in — whether it be a dollar per day, or a dollar per hour. The thing is: What does this money buy? If the money of several years ago bought more than his increased pay of today will buy, then we are kidding ourselves about this wonderful prosperity.

The big centers hold Community Chest Drives to take care of local needs. There would be a national chest of some kind to take care of these national drives which are demanding so much from the pocket-books of our citizens.

Liquor Vote May Be Taken in Texas

The legislature finally has found a sponsor for a constitutional amendment which has been introduced for the purpose of prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all kinds of liquor in Texas.

The fact that this constitutional amendment has been introduced is no sign that it will be passed by the lawmakers. It takes 100 votes in the House and 21 votes in the Senate to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters.

The liquor interests are busy in a frantic effort to suppress the proposed amendment. This group will spend a lot of money combating the dry efforts.

As the matter stands just why should any nation permit the continuation of the manufacture and sale of a commodity which is wrecking and ruining the lives of all who come into contact with the nefarious business?

Oil Depletion Must Continue as Policy

General E. O. Thompson has been in Washington trying to defend the interest of oil men. The federal government, through the income tax department and backed by the President, says that the depletion allowable on oil is a tax loophole. The federal boys would like to collect more taxes from the oil companies.

As a matter of fact all of us are perfectly willing to soak the other fellow. That is the trouble with taxation as a general thing.

So far as oil is concerned, the Newsman has never put a cent in any oil well, and has no interest in any oil company. But we can see the justice in permitting a large depletion allowable in the oil business.

Who is going to do all of the work in developing oil fields if the federal government insists on soaking the oil companies and taking away the reserves which they are now investing in wild cat explorations?

We have a good example right here in Randall county. So far every test well has been a dry hole. The oil companies have spent a lot of money on wells, and have taken leases on practically all land in the county. This is a pure wild cat venture, but it is the part of a development program which must be carried on if we are to have more oil.

Incidentally, we are about to lose the oil in Iran to the Russians and if this field is stolen by the Reds, this nation must have all of the oil available for future developments in this nation, both at home and on the battle front.

Business As Usual a Pernicious Policy

General MacArthur wants to know from the United Nations what our future attitude toward Russia will be. He has a right to know. Russia throws her influence behind China and encourages the continued fight of the Chinese Reds against the United Nations forces.

We get pretty peeved at our English cousins across the waters who insist that business be continued as usual. War materials have been sold by the British to the Russians; now they are being delivered to the Reds in China.

While other members of the United Nations are talking about sanctions against the Reds, the British continue their policy of business as usual. We well recall the same policy which existed in Washington when the State Department was approving the sale of oil and scrap metal to Japan, only to have these war materials used against us. We paid dearly for this fatal error, and will pay for the British policy in the East.

Governor Asks Huge Civil Defense Funds

Quite naturally none of us want to be caught napping if war should come to our shores, but we cannot become enthusiastic over the proposal of Governor Shivers to appropriate $2,000,000 for this purpose. The Governor says we will get about $13 million from the depleted federal treasury if we raise this amount.

As we see it, Shivers is not a very good financier to follow. He supported the demand that another senior college be created in Texas by taking over a local junior college in spite of opposition of all educational leaders. Then he said there was no need for additional taxes, in spite of the rising cost of living, which likewise applies to state employees. Then he advocated cutting appropriations, especially for high education, in spite of his demand for another college which was not needed, and for which he approves an appropriation of $4,000,000 which would come out of the budget of other state educational institutions.

The whole tragic picture of running to Washington to get six dollars for every dollar that we spend continues in Texas. The national government is broke — almost bankrupt, yet we are demanding that billions be spent for this one item.

During World War II the people of Canyon spent a considerable amount of money for local defense. The people of the Panhandle organized. Frankly there seems to be less danger of the war being brought to our shores than was the case during this war.

Maybe we are all wet, and if we are, we hope that the legislature will act. However, there is a very, very strong sentiment to hold down appropriations and this sentiment may rule.

Whenever an individual disagrees with you, he is either smarter than you, in which case he should have your respect, or he is dumber, in which case he should have your sympathy.

Mail-order houses may make their contributions to the public good in the communities where their head offices are, but they are not doing much that we can see for Canyon.

The churches of Randall County may not be the biggest in the world but they can give us more religion than we can assimilate.

Automobilists of Texas seem determined to break all records in fatal accidents and nobody seems to care a hoot.

The peculiar thing about life is those who bemoan their inability to teach the people anything continue to try to do the impossible.

SHORT STORY

The Jackpot

By Ona Freeman Lathrop

THE night was a murky one. Only the stark bulbs sending their light through the steaming windows of Joe's Diner relieved the darkness. Bill Owen lounged against the door wondering whether to go in. He fingered the lone nickel in his pocket. It would get him a cup of coffee any way.

"You here again?" Joe kidded. "What'll it be—porterhouse?" Bill grinned. "Hand me a menu. I might want breast of guinea." Then he noticed the girl. She stood by the pinball machine watching the metal balls roll down as a fellow played. There was something about her that made Bill feel uneasy inside. The rain had pelted her hair into thin honey-colored wisps around her small face. She hugged her old polo coat about her. There was a searching look in her grey eyes as she scanned each face. They made him think of somebody.

That was it! She reminded him of the way his kid sister, Kathy might have looked. Kathy had that same kind of hair and that same expectant look on her face, even at twelve when he left home. Kathy was probably quite a girl by now! It made him wince to think of home.

He watched this one fingering the change in her cheap purse. It was only chicken-feed, but she selected a nickel carefully and put it in the slot. Somehow her eyes were too bright as she followed the dancing balls down the incline. It looked as if a lot depended upon whether or not she won.

Bill slid off the stool and went over. No kid should look like that. He fished out his nickel.

"Here, kid. It's about due. Let me show you how."

He whanged the lever down and gave the machine a little whack at the side. The nickels poured out. As he filled her hands with them, she gasped, "But they're yours."

"Na-ah! G'wan and take 'em, and then go across the street and get yourself a room at Ma Johnson's. It's no night for dames to be out alone," he added gruffly. She hurried off.

An old softie, eh? He could have had a bed himself and a blueplate special. Fool!

"Cup o' java, Joe. On the cuff. I'll be in the chips again soon."

Joe grinned. "Yeah? Not if you play Sandy Claus to all the dames. That one's been hanging about all evening giving every guy that came in the eye. Looking for some one, she said."

THE door slammed and Bill looked around. Here she was back again. She was coming straight toward him. Well, he was through. She needn't try any more tricks. She slid onto the stool beside him. "Listen, mister, what's your name?" she asked breathlessly. "J. Pierpont Morgan. What's your's—Barbara Hutton?"

"No, seriously. You remind me of some one. I didn't notice at first—I was so set on winning at the pinball. Could you be Bill Owen?"

"Yeah, I could. Why?" He eyed her curiously.

"Because I've been hunting you. I've covered every joint like this, hoping I wouldn't find you in such a place, but knowing I would. You always had the crazy idea you could get rich the easy way, ever since you hit the jackpot the first time you played when you were a kid. Well, where did it get you?" She was out of breath now.

"Hey, how do you know so much?" he demanded.

"I'm Kathy, your sister Kathy. Oh, Bill, Mom's sick and she's been asking for you. You've got to come home with me."

"Yeah? You are Kathy then! And they'd want me to come home—even this way? Na-ah!" He flicked at his ragged cuff.

"Sure. They knew you weren't making good, or you'd have been back. They just want you to come home—to make Mom better."

Her big grey eyes were welling with tears and her hair hung down wispy than ever, but she was Kathy and his kid days and home all rolled into one. He slipped off the stool and took her arm. He'd been playing out of luck, but at last he'd hit the jackpot.

"Come on, then," he said. "What are we waiting for?"

Men look up to some women and around to others.

Marion Miller Is Honoree at Sat. Entertainment

Miss Marion Miller of Amarillo, bride-elect of Kenneth Boyd Porter, was honoree at a luncheon bridge and lingerie shower in the Meredith Warren home Saturday at 1:30 o'clock. Co-hostess with Mrs. Warren was Mrs. A. C. Haley, Jr.

The serving table was centered with the bride's cake, encircled with pink carnations which were given as favors. Mrs. G. W. Lee won high prize.

Luncheon was served to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Maude G. Miller, Mrs. Robert Bellah, Mrs. Louis Hinder, Mrs. Kenneth Gipsen of Skellytown, Mrs. G. W. Lee of Silverton, Mrs. Bernard Warren, Mrs. W. J. Wooten, Jr., Mrs. Fred Jennings and the hostesses.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Luther Lawless and Mrs. Borden Price.

Germans are beginning to complain more loudly that U. S. and British officers are living too high at German expense. The complaint is that single officers at times are occupying six to eight-room apartments, with servants and all sorts of comforts, while German families lack shelter.

Filipino politicians aren't convinced they want a proffered 250-million-dollar U. S. loan well enough to make them raise taxes, enact a minimum-wage law and reform political morals in the Islands. Until they act, they don't get the 250 million.

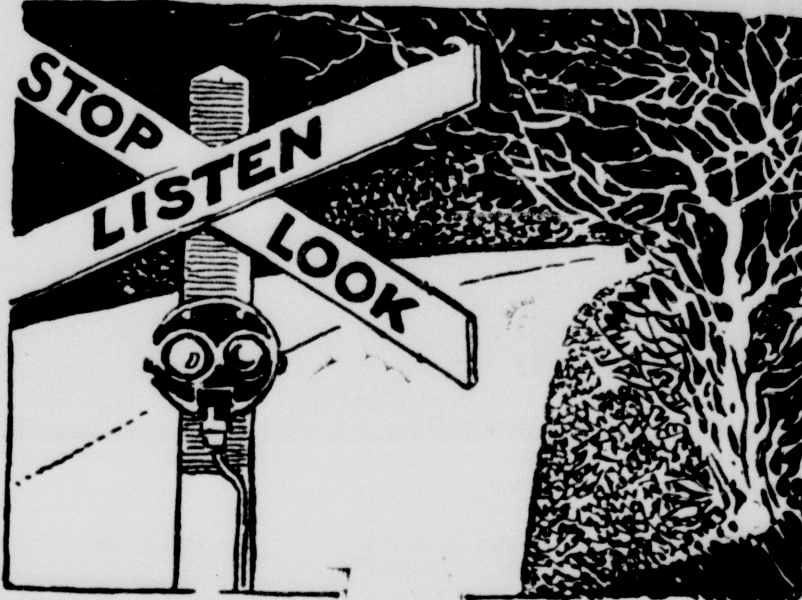

Donald Dawson, "anonymous" assistant to Mr. Truman in charge of top personnel matters, is being credited by some Senators with seeking to build a special political machine through influence over personnel officials in Government departments.

Hints are being dropped from the direction of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, where New Deal influence remains, that Charles Wilson, Mobilization Director, lacks a sense of humor in dealing with inflation problems. The idea is that, if he would take his job a little less seriously, he would be able to get along better with labor leaders who want special favors in wage policy.

An argument is going on inside the White House over the issue of whether anything that is clearly "illegal" can still be "improper." Mr. Truman has said that he has found nothing "illegal" in the use of influence by members of Congress to help get Government loans for constituents. Unanswered was the question whether it was "improper."

The fact that one of his stenographers has been wearing an $8,540 natural royal pastel mink coat came as a surprise to President Truman. The President was surprised, too, to discover that a special law had been passed to permit a young lady to come to the United States from Australia to serve as secretary for the White House military aide.

Fastest-growing, maybe the biggest, business in Washington in terms of dollar turnover is the highly lucrative "influence business." Individuals with important friend-

SKY WONDERS

Glowing Gas Found in Sky

CLEVELAND, O.—Dr. Edwin F. Carpenter of the University of Arizona reported the recent discovery of vast rivers of glowing gas and stars formed by cosmic collisions.

Long and thin, the streams of gas stretch like a faint filament or link between two galaxies, the great star cities of the universe, he said.

He suggested that they were formed by a great sideswiping collision of two galaxies that lasted for 1,000,000 years. Hot gases were sucked out as a long streamer of wreckage as the galaxies tore through each other and then rushed apart.

The swirling river of gas apparently condenses into stars as it cools, and thus keeps glowing all the time. The rivers give a clue as to how some stars are created, and indicate that more stars are being born continually.

Gas Clouds Collide

Dr. Carpenter said he found 15 cases in which pairs of galaxies are engaged in collision or emerging from one. Galaxies are great collections of stars, containing up to 100,000,000,000. Our Milky Way is one of the largest.

Some are spiral and some globular. They may be 100,000 light years wide, a light year being the distance light travels in one year. There are millions or billions of galaxies in the universe.

Stars in a galaxy are so widely separated that one galaxy can go right through another "without either group being aware of the other," Dr. Carpenter said. But gas clouds in the galaxies collide and grow hot, and the glowing filament of gas is pulled and trailed out as the star cities race on away. In some 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 years, the streamer becomes as long as a galaxy is wide.

Some are relatively thin, forming almost threadlike streams. Others are wide and fuzzy in appearance. Some look like an axle connecting two spiral galaxies.

New Type Star Found

Dr. Carpenter found the rivers in studying pairs of galaxies, or even larger groups, far out in space. Meanwhile, three other astronomers have announced the finding of what seems to be a brand-new type of star, a blue dwarf. It is one of the bluest stars in the heavens, and very hot. All other very hot blue stars are extremely large.

The blue dwarf lies in the Northern Cross constellation, but is well outside the Milky Way. That is, in a place where hot stars are found only rarely, they explained. It may represent a new family of dwarf, high-temperature stars, never before seen.

Washed Out French Cadet Steals Army Plane, Dies

CALDWELL, Tex.—A French air cadet, heavy hearted because he couldn't win his wings, stole an air force plane and, laughing, flew it to his death.

Jean M. le Mitourad, 22, son of a French surgeon, was at the Randolph air force base with other young Frenchmen for training under the north Atlantic pact.

Randolph officials said that he had been downcast since failing as a pilot trainee. The cadet went to the flight line, climbed into the plane and took off. He zoomed low over Stinson and Brooks air bases, whizzed down over Randolph, then headed north.

A note indicating that he intended to crash the plane was found just after he took off. In it he apologized to "the American air force for destroying this plane."

Flights of other planes chased him over the skies, but returned to base when their gas started running low. Capt. Alain Jourdan, a French liaison officer, who flew alongside the cadet in another trainer in an effort to coax him down, said le Mitourad told him by radio: "I spend my last hours in the air and then I die."

Jourdan said the cadet seemed in command of his emotions and "laughed many times." He crashed in a wooded pasture about five miles west of Caldwell.

Glasgow University Rector Showered With Eggs, Fruit

GLASGOW, Scotland — Glasgow University has a new rector, but not without a bit of a ruckus. Dr. John MacCormick took office in a shower of tomatoes, firecrackers and rotten eggs. Rattles, bells, shouts and piercing blasts of a trumpet drowned out the speech-making.

A live duck flung on the platform by angry students lurched around under the feet of the assembled dignitaries.

When it was all over, Dr. MacCormick, daubing at egg and tomato stains on his suit, told reporters: "One of the liveliest installations I've ever seen."

Dr. MacCormick, one of the best hated and best loved men in Scotland, was elected rector in a lively campaign a month before. He is chairman of the Scottish Covenant association which demands a greater measure of home rule for the highlands. The association claims it is supported by 60 to 70 per cent of the Scottish people.

Cemetery

Moved for Steel Mill

MORRISVILLE, Pa.—A private cemetery founded by associates of William Penn 250 years ago is being moved to make way for a steel mill.

Workmen recently began removing remains from the burial ground of the Harrison-Pemberton families in Falls Township. The cemetery is located on part of the tract where the new Fairless plant of United States Steel Corp. is to be erected some 25 miles from Philadelphia.

The remains were taken to Pennsbury, restored manor house of the Quaker family, about three miles away. Archeologists of the Pennsylvania historical and museum commission were on hand to supervise the operation.

Supersonic Dive By Jet Aircraft Rocks Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A mysterious "explosion" recently brought hundreds of calls to Los Angeles police and newspaper switchboards. No serious damage was reported, but a few windows were broken in Culver City and the shock was felt from Santa Monica to the San Fernando valley, 20 miles inland.

Military intelligence officials finally came up with an explanation. It was caused by a jet plane pulling out of a supersonic dive, officials said.

Two or three high powered jet planes were being tested, an intelligence spokesman said. They were at altitudes of nearly 40,000 feet.

One of the new ships went into a 600 to 900 m.p.h. power dive, he said, and roared through the sonic barrier. When it leveled off it created a vacuum and caused a terrific blast, like a thunderclap.

The blast apparently occurs only when an airplane is diving toward the earth at the speed of sound or faster. A shock and noise phenomenon apparently continues straight on to the ground when the pilot pulls out of the dive and begins to regain altitude.

The shock is the result of what has long been known as the sonic barrier and which is better described as compressibility. An airplane flying faster than sound pushes the air ahead of it faster than the sound waves can travel. A sound wave is a pressure wave and full of energy. This energy then is piled up ahead of the airplane and does not have a chance to disperse until the plane changes direction.

Then the accumulated energy expended in a shock wave, much as ripples in the water carry off the energy caused by stones striking the smooth surface of a pond.

A high flying plane traveling at the speed of sound or faster causes no serious problem on the ground because the sound energy waves have dissipated their strength before they reach the earth.

Ancient Irish Tombs Yield Traces of a Giant Race

DUBLIN, Eire—Traces of a legendary race of seven foot giants who inhabited Ireland in its golden age, long before the dawn of history, were reported unearthed recently by Irish archeologists.

In a prehistoric burial chamber dating back to 2000 B.C., they found human skeletons which tower head and shoulders over modern men, stretched in slab topped graves with offerings of food and ornaments beside them.

According to reports most of the skeletons are around seven feet in height, of extraordinary width of shoulder and massive bone structure.

In Irish folklore and mythology, seven foot giants stride gloriously through a "land of milk and honey", battling strange monsters and performing fantastic deeds of physical strength and endurance.

The graves are believed to be the first concrete evidence to support the legends of the race of supermen.

The burial chambers, hidden for nearly 4,000 years under mounds of earth, first came to notice some 100 years ago when local inhabitants began to search for gold but were deterred by mysterious and terrifying rumblings from within.

This year, however, the mounds surrendered peacefully and silently their hidden treasures to a team from the National Museum. The date of most of the findings has been established as between 1500 and 2000 B.C.

Watchman Uses Windshield Wiper to Save Own Life

FORT PIERCE, Fla.—William Spears, 40, a night watchman, used a windshield wiper to save his life after a five-foot rattlesnake had bitten him on the hand.

Spears was bitten while he made his rounds at the Fort Pierce state farmers market. While his two dogs killed the snake, Spears ran to his automobile and started the engine.

He disconnected one end of the tube leading to the car's windshield wiper and applied it to the wound. Suction from the tube removed the snake venom. Spears was back at work the following night with no ill effects but a swollen hand and arm.

U. S. military planners are surprised and disappointed by the tempo of British arms production. The British plan to be able to make 50 jet engines a month two or three years from now, in a typical factory. A factory of similar importance in U. S. will be turning out nearly 3,000 jet engines a month by then. Within two years, U. S. expects to be far ahead of Britain in engine design and performance.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower finds himself flooded with offers from refugees out of Iron Curtain countries wanting to join the new European army. General Eisenhower could get 100,000 men for his army in a hurry if recruits on a foreign-legion basis could be taken in big numbers.

Senator Paul Douglas, of Illinois, is very near the top of Democratic Senators on the White House "black list." Senator Douglas has incurred the President's displeasure by siding very actively with the Federal Reserve Board in its argument with John Synder, Treasury Secretary, over interest rates and by his support of the investigation of the Reconstruction.

John Synder, Treasury Secretary, and Leon Keyserling, Economic Adviser, will pair off against Thomas McCabe, FRB Chairman, and Charles Wilson, Mobilization Director, on the issue of money control. Odds are slightly on the side of Wilson and McCabe to get some concession in the price the Treasury will pay for money.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, is working on another reorganization of the Department of State. The new plan is to create a Department like that of Defense with an over-all Secretary and with three full-titled Secretaries — a Secretary of Foreign Policy, a Secretary of Foreign Economic Affairs and a Secretary of Information.

Sure Proof

Russia-First variant, as related at the Cafe de la Paix:

The Soviet politician Malenkov paid a visit to Premier Stalin to report that it had just been verified that Adam and Eve were Russians.

"What if the Voice of America calls this merely a piece of Moscow propaganda when we announce it?" the Premier demanded. "What definite proof have we?"

"The best in the world," Malenkov replied. "Adam and Eve had no clothes. They had no dwelling. All they had to eat was apples, and they believed they were in Paradise. They must have been Russians."

FANCY PANTS

Composer Ludwig von Beethoven was once invited to a dinner party by a noblewoman who delighted in showing off her artistic friends. She glanced at his shabby attire and said:

"Of course you won't come dressed like this. It's a very important party. I must see your best clothes."

Beethoven flushed in anger. Then he promised:

"You will see my best clothes, madam."

On the night of the dinner, Beethoven did not arrive at the appointed time. The hostess waited nervously for her prize guest to appear. An hour passed. Then there was a knock on the door and a messenger entered, carrying a package.

The noblewoman opened it. Inside was a full dress suit and a card which read:

"Madam, these are my best clothes. I hope they will make your party a success."

The White House is annoyed by evidences that Democratic leaders in Congress are following a "go slow" policy in dealing with the President's mobilization program. Congress appears to be far from convinced that Mr. Truman should be given many of the powers and plans he asks.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, again is firmly set in his job. Mr. Truman, at least temporarily, has given up an idea of looking for a successor.

Thomas D. Cabot, Boston manufacturer, is to co-ordinate this country's military and economic aid abroad. Mr. Cabot, earning a reputation as a red-tape cutter, is boss of a new and powerful International Security Affairs Committee that will pull together Marshall Plan, defense and other aid programs.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is having to prod European countries again to try to get them to come up with firm estimates of what they need in supplies and dollars to fill their troop quotas for a new European army. There still is much dragging of feet.

Britain's Socialists, fearful that U. S. may be dragging the world toward war, are circulating a new slogan to express their fears — "No annihilation without representation." The British figure that they are in the front line of any new war.

Charles E. Wilson, Mobilization Director, won't be pushed out of his job by labor-leader pressure, but his honeymoon as "assistant President" definitely is over. Mr. Wilson has discovered that in a pinch, with politics involved, disgruntled individuals can by-pass an assistant President and go directly to the President with their complaints.

George Marshall, Secretary of Defense, and his top aides have muffed handling of their plan for universal military service. Very important members of Congress feel that the military establishment has juggled figures and been less than frank in trying to sell the need for drafting 18-year-olds.

Standardization is pushed on Federal supplies for defense.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WITH OUR OWN HANDS

THERE IS AN EXTRA ZEST, A GAIN IN PURPOSEFUL LIVING, WE AMERICANS ALL SHARE IN DOING THINGS FOR OURSELVES. "HOME-BUILT" ALWAYS GIVES A GREATER SENSE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT AND PRIDE THAN EVER COMES FROM "BOUGHTEN THINGS."

WHAT IS TRUE OF THE THINGS WE USE AROUND THE HOME IS ALSO TRUE OF THE LARGER PATTERN OF OUR LIVING, OF GETTING AHEAD THROUGH OUR OWN INITIATIVE — OF BUILDING SECURITY FOR OUR FAMILY THROUGH OUR OWN THRIFT — AND OF RAISING OUR CHILDREN IN THE WAYS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Mr. Truman is confident that the Democratic candidate for President in 1952 will get the bulk of the organized-worker vote even if labor leaders hold back their support. President Truman was much impressed by evidence in 1950 elections that workers who differ with the leaders do not vote with them.

Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon, forced publication of a report that was highly critical of the Air Force for taking man power that it was not prepared to process. There was pressure on a special armed-services committee of the Senate to tone down, if not to bury, this report.

A plan is under study to set up supply depots of U. S. arms in friendly countries near Yugoslavia. In case of attack on that country, the weapons would be close at hand and quickly available for use by the Yugoslavs.

Army officials are far from convinced that the Chinese really are beaten in Korea. There is concern that the Chinese, building forces around the 38th parallel, may yet loose with a haymaker that would involve large-scale use of planes and of artillery.

Staff chiefs of U. S. armed forces are acutely pained by the idea of diplomatic officials that U. N. forces in Korea should not move above the 38th parallel. Military officers argue that to set any fixed line beyond which armed forces cannot operate from our side just assures an enemy of freedom to build for a devastating blow.

Donald Dawson, the man who passes out big jobs for the White House, is getting little Senate support for his selection of directors for RFC. Mr. Dawson is learning that for every Senator he pleases temporarily by accepting his nominee for a job, he offends three or four whose candidates are passed over.

U. S. authorities in December and January, when things looked bad in the Far East, were ready to order armed convoys for ships carrying rubber to U. S. from Malaya. There was concern over possible submarine action and a number of ships were diverted to Singapore to pick up rubber. Many of these ships now are coming back without rubber because of heavy purchase by Chinese Communists.

Russia's Joseph Stalin still is cool to requests from Communist China that Russia jump into the Korean war with her Siberian air force and with submarines. The Russians, instead, continue to drive hard bargains on weapons that China gets.

Tulia Herald Made Survey of Wayside Trade Situation

H. M. Baggarly of the Tulia Herald recently made a survey of the trade situation at Wayside and comes up with the following statement:

"Got some more information from Kotton McGehee which sounded good. Since Wayside is located comparable distances from Tulia, Happy, Canyon and Claude, we've been interested in knowing what weekly papers those people read where they trade where they PREFER to trade and so forth. Frankly, we've been curious to know how Clyde Warwick and his Canyon News have been doing out there. Kotton assured us that The Herald has its share of the readers at Wayside.

"It was also encouraging to know that the people of Wayside, according to Kotton, consider Tulia the best 'farmers' town around not excepting Amarillo. He said the local implement houses give better service than can be had in Amarillo, consequently most of that business comes to Tulia despite the paved road north. But he said much of the grocery and dry goods trade goes to Canyon and Amarillo."

This leads to the observation that Canyon business houses may be losing some business at Wayside because of the lack of interest on the part of our citizens in expanding our trade territory. No concerted effort has been made in recent months to go out after business. Now should be a good time to start. The Canyon News is ready to assist in this expansion.

P-T-A Will Make Study Cooperation In Coming Year

A study of parent-teacher cooperation for school improvement will be a project sponsored jointly by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Texas Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development, beginning in September.

It is hoped from this study that techniques will be developed by which parents and teachers can work together profitably," said Donald McDonald, who has been selected as project coordinator. Mr. McDonald, assistant professor of elementary education in Texas Tech, is now on leave of absence to do graduate work at the University of Texas.

From 8 to 10 schools will be chosen to engage in the project, each school to select some techniques of parent-teacher cooperation for intensive study and experimentation. No two schools will experiment with the same technique. Representatives from each system will be brought together in summer workshops to plan the program.

The following conditions must be met by participating schools: (1) agree to make this a major undertaking over a three-year period; (2) show that it has time and facilities for the experiment; (3) keep a careful and complete record; (4) agree to send and cover expenses of one faculty member and at least two P-T-A members to a one-week workshop this summer and next summer, the time and place to be decided later. Either the school, the P-T-A, or both may pay the expenses of sending delegates to the workshop.

Types of problems which might be considered are as follows: local P-T-A meetings, improvement projects, parent-teacher participation in curriculum planning, parent-teacher study of school policy, regular opinion polling of parents, parent-teacher conferences, acquainting parents with the local school program through the home room teacher.

How do you like your roads?
Are you interested in good country roads, or super highways, or both?

Would you prefer that your county officials have charge of farm-to-market road building, or do you think that the State Highway Department should have that duty?

Everybody wants good roads.
How to get them is a problem that is fretting the Legislature right now.
There is likely to be a lot of wrangling before the question is finally settled.

There are several bills under consideration — all giving different solutions to the problem. Here is the present situation:

Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline you pay four pennies, as tax, to the State. One penny goes to the schools, two pennies go to the Highway Department to build and repair roads, and one penny goes to the "road bond assumption fund." And what is that fund?

A long time ago, many counties issued bonds (which means that they borrowed money) to build roads.

When some of those roads became a part of the State Highway System, the state agreed to pay off its proportionate part of the

Ticklers

By George

"The new kid is from Idaho!"

counties' bonds.

The one cent of the gasoline tax that goes to the "road bond assumption fund" is to take care of these payments.

But a lot of the debt has been wiped out, over the years, so that there is now a surplus in the road bond assumption fund. In a few years, when all the bonds are retired, the one cent of gasoline tax would be sufficient to do as much rural road building as the state is now doing.

Meanwhile, there is a lot of quibbling in the Legislature as to what should be done with the surplus, part of which now goes to the counties and part to the highway department.

Two new bills, dealing with the road problem, have drawn attention and you'll be reading that the Legislature is debating about them.

One of these bills, by Representative Max Triplett of Hillsboro, increases the state gasoline tax from four cents to five cents a gallon.
The extra penny would be divided up this way:

One-fourth would go to the schools, one-half to the State Highway Department for the construction of farm-to-market roads, and one-fourth to the State Highway Department for the construction and maintenance of streets incorporated cities and towns.

For a long time, cities have been trying to get some state money to help build streets, particularly those which are part of the State Highway System. The Triplett bill would provide about $5,000,000 for city street construction and maintenance.

Last year, the gasoline tax of four cents per gallon brought in more than $87,000,000 for highway and school purposes. The Triplett measure would increase that to something more than $100,000,000.

Another new bill, by Representative D. B. Hardeman of Denison,

TO BE OR NOT TO BE?

The most talked about topic of the senior boys on the campus is the 18 year old draft law. To many of the boys this is a serious matter which may hamper their education. These boys are looking for ways in which they may further their education and at the same time serve their country. Other boys are jittery, they don't even try to decide what the future has in store for them. The only conclusion the jittery group arrives at is to volunteer and "get it over with."

As for myself, I have great hopes of completing my education while serving my country. As has been said before, "The greatest thing to fear is fear itself."

LET'S NOT QUIT NOW!

School spirit, this school year, was at its best during the football and basketball seasons. Now our school athletes have turned to what are generally regarded as minor sports: track, tennis, and volleyball. Just as much effort is put out in these "minor" sports as any other sport and just as much glory is won for the individual and the school.

Canyon High School and her athletes have won many honors this year and our efforts must not diminish now. If school spirit will encourage our athletes to greater heights let's not quit now. Back your Eagles.

Senior Vignette

Peggy Maynard came to C. H. S. from W. T. at the beginning of the year. Reading is her hobby while studying is her pastime. She makes a very sweet picture standing five feet six inches tall with light brown hair, blue eyes, and tiny feet. Peggy played basketball for W. T. one year, volleyball two years, and one year of basketball for Canyon High. Her ambition is to become educated. Arts and crafts is her favorite subject while Mrs. Simms is her favorite teacher.

Vigorous Clyde Root is well known Canyon High. He has been leading yells for the past two years. Full of fun, always a pleasant smile, and a quip, are marked characteristics of Clyde. Brown hair, blue eyes, and five feet, eight inches make up Clyde physically. Bowling is his hobby. English is his favorite subject while Mrs. Simms is his favorite teacher.

Remember When?

Along about this time last year, a basketball trophy with the inscription, "Conference A State Champion" was placed in the trophy case in Canyon High School.

A bus load of sleepy but happy CHS students returned from their hurried trip to Austin.

"That Brewster Boy," 1950 junior play was a howling success.

Six students, four boys and two girls, made CHS Junior Who's Who.

Volleyball Is Here Again!!

Volleyball is here again, and after only a weeks' practice, the Canyon Eaglettes entered the Amarillo volleyball tournament.

The Eaglettes were matched against Wheeler in their initial game. They won the first match 15-5, lost the second 15-10, and won the third 15-8. In their second game, the Eaglettes fell to Phillips the first two matches, the scores reading 15-3 and 15-4.

On the starting line-up are: Lorraine Carter, Joann Dodson, Pat Ford, Tyne Cox, Barbara McDougal, and Barbara Ganton.

The B team also entered the tournament and defeated the Panhandle six 15-12. In their second match against Amarillo, they were again victorious, with the scores of 15-8, 15-13. In the third battle, the B team lost to the Pampa girls 15-6, 15-8.

On the B team are: Barbara Beck, Peggy Maynard, Wanda Sheets, LaRue Davis, and Dorothy Cleavinger. Jean Mickey and Lila Hunter are substitutes.

Enthusiastic seniors made plans for their annual trip and elected committees to complete plans for their play, "Mother is a Freshman," Wednesday morning.

Voting to have a bake sale March 19, ways of increasing treasury funds were discussed. Means of raising money for the school gift were mentioned, also. They decided to have a party after the play was produced.

Education group urges equity basis in student deferral.

Well! Well! Well! Here I am back again. I'll bet you didn't expect me, what with the sandstorms and high winds we've been having. Just because I have to drag a fifty-pound weight around with me to keep from being blown away!

Bet that "Peter Cotton Tail" is having to wear goggles these days to keep the sand out of his eyes. Even though Easter isn't until March 25, he's already hopping down the bunny trail! (Radio that is.)

While discussing the comparative degree of "round" in English class, Mrs. Simms said that you had to say "more round" instead of "rounder." Eugene Hill quickly offered this to the discussion: "What happens when he puts his arm rounder?"

Merle Bullard took a list of the weights of the senior girls for graduation gowns. Hmmm. A little blackmail could come of this!

In assembly Wednesday, Bettie McGeehee assisted Mr. Willett in showing his collection of articles from India. She even got to put her head in a tiger's mouth. What did you see in there, Bettie?

Miss Payne, journalism director, remarked that a leopard-skin coat brought by Mr. Willett from India would last a life-time. Under his breath, Claude Money muttered that it didn't last the leopard a life-time.

"In Class A. Bowie is highly regarded, with French and Brenham other touted entries. And then there's Canyon."

This last paragraph from a story by Wilbur Martin in the February 25 edition of the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe caused quite a "to-do" in CHS.

1951 Basketball King and Queen

Ray Burrus and Dorothy McReynolds

Basketball Queen, King Announced

Dorothy McReynolds and Ray Burrus reign as 1950-51 Basketball Queen and King of Canyon High. Selections were completed by Eagle and Eaglette teams following State Tournament in Austin.

Dorothy McReynolds is well known as a sparkling blond haired, blue eyed senior with a pleasant smile for everyone. She has been active in social and academic activities her three years in high school and graduates with high honors. Dorothy is 1951 DAR representative from Canyon, a National Honor Society member, and twirler for the band.

Towering Ray Burrus has made quite an athletic record at CHS. This, his junior year, Ray played on district and regional all-tournament basketball teams and the regional football team. While a sophomore he received Honorable Mention on the All-State basketball team, won first place in the district, and won third in regional. Ray now serves as junior class treasurer and was voted class favorite.

The telephone is being used quite a bit at senior play practice. It seems that some of the boys are lonesome and have to speak to the lady friends.

CHS Fight Song Needed Urgently

Canyon High needs a fight song, not just any song, but one with all the spirit, admiration, and love students feel for their school and teams.

Why not win a $100 cash prize and enter the best lyrics and music to a fight song for CHS? This unusual contest is open to any native-born or naturalized United States citizen living in the Canyon area or neighboring cities. No music shall be submitted which has previously been published, awarded a prize, or copyrighted, and the winning composition becomes the sole property of Canyon High. Send your original entry to Fight Song Chairman, Drawer 899, Canyon, Texas. Further information on rules governing the submission of Fight Song entries may be obtained from the preceding address.

Contest closes May 1, 1951, so HURRY!

Teacher's Meeting Brings Holiday Fri.

Friday, March 9, was a holiday for students at Canyon High, when teachers attended Northwest Texas Conference for Education in Amarillo, Texas. The annual meeting brought instructors from district nine to Municipal Auditorium to discuss in general and sectional sessions the conference theme, "Conserving Our Most Valuable Resource — Boys and Girls."

Canyon Independent School District was well represented at the meet and is honored to have Superintendent E. A. Wooten serve as a member of the State Executive Committee and Principal James E. Miller as president of Randall County Unit.

Presenting The 1951 Who's Who

Seated are Marshall Jones and Florence Coffee. Standing are from left to right: Sherma Dixon, Bettie Graham, Richard Sanders, and Joyce Payne.

This week the Eagle's Tale presents brief data about the six recently chosen 1951 Junior Who's Who members who, unusually enough, are all members of the National Honor Society.

Florence Coffee, who is an accomplished pianist, was a junior magazine sales award winner, a member of the junior play cast, and is now a cheerleader and business manager-proof-reader on the Eagle's Tale staff.

Sherma Dixon is noted for her nimble-wristed band artistry; she has been a CHS baton-wielder for three years, and is now instructing a class of elementary twirlers. Sherma is junior class favorite this year, and she was also a member of the junior play cast.

President of PHA for 1951 is Bettie Graham. A two-year SFC representative, she was in the junior play, a magazine selling team captain, and sophomore class favorite. Bettie is an English Award winner, and she is interested in voice and piano.

Junior class president Marshall Jones entered Canyon High last fall as a result of Canyon's new high school consolidation. He was WT student body president in 1949-50. He belongs to the CHS band and the WTSC orchestra, and plays the piano. Marshall hopes to become a psychiatrist.

Alpenfels Speaks To T. S. T. A.

At a recent meeting of Region IX, Texas State Teachers Association, March 8, in the cafeteria, the members heard Dr. Ethel Alpenfels of New York University.

Dr. James P. Cornette, President of West Texas State College, gave the invocation followed by recognition of guests by J. E. Miller, President of the Randall County Unit. Dr. Ruth Lowes, President of Region IX T. S. T. A., introduced Dr. Alpenfels.

Following the address, a short business meeting was held.

Lines and Cues Ringing Ears!

Lines! Lines! Lines! Cues! Cues! Cues! The repetition of these two little words has been ringing in the ears of the cast for "Mother is a Freshman."

The reason for the ringing is that the performance dates for the 1951 senior play are not very far off and because of the basketball tournaments, the rehearsal schedule was broken and work was discontinued.

Now that peace has been restored once again to the halls of CHS, the cast has also settled back, ready to hear, "Lines! Lines! Cues! Cues! Cues!"

Religion and Life Week Starts March 13; Dr. Remmer to Speak

Dr. Harry Remmer has been selected as guest speaker for the fifth annual series of Willson lectures, extending from March 13 through March 16. Each week-day morning at 10:00 in the main auditorium, Remmer will present his lectures concerning "Harmony of Science and Scripture."

Dr. Remmer spent his first college years training to be a doctor, but in his senior year was converted and went into training for the ministry. He has become well-known for the many books on religion he has written. Remmer's latest book is a devotional in 2 volumes, one from January to June and the other from July to December. A detailed devotional for each day has been written. Wheaton Press of Wheaton college, where Dr. Remmer once attended school, is publishing the book.

Dr. Remmer was born in San Francisco and began his college career in Hahnemann Medical College in San Francisco. From there he attended Whittier College in California, the Bible Institute of Los Angeles. Dr. Remmer received his Honorary D. D. from Colquith College. An honorary Sc. D. was presented him by Wheaton College and John Brown University presented an honorary LL. D. to Dr. Remmer. The first church of which Remmer was pastor is the Friends

Church in Los Angeles, the same church that ordained him to the ministry. During World War I he was physician director of the National War Work Council at Ross Field in San Diego.

Dr. Remmer has been president of the Research Science Bureau, Inc. since 1930. He is director of the Winona Lake Conference and director of the Voice of the Andes Radio Station in Quito, Ecuador.

In 1937, Dr. Remmer received the Eugene Field Society award for the best contribution to English religious literature. Some of the many books which he has written are "The Coming Way and Rise of Russia," "Crying Stones," "Flying Worms," and "The Coming King."

Editor of Christian Faith and Life, Dr. Remmer is also a contributing editor of Religious Digest, The Northwestern Pilot and Moody Monthly.

Classes will not be dismissed so that students may attend the lectures, but if an instructor desires for his class to attend the lecture during the 10:00 hour on Wednesday and Friday, he may dismiss his class for that purpose.

J. M. Willson of Floydada donated $15,000 in 1947 to sponsor the Willson Lecture series each year. He also donated money to sponsor religious series at McMurry and Texas Wesleyan.

Heart Trouble Is No Indication of Stopping All Work

Too prevalent today is the belief that heart disease is the spell of doom and that one must cease all work and activity. Modern medical knowledge easily disproves this notion, and thousands of case histories bear witness to its falsity.

Heart disease, medical science now knows, is not a single ailment. Many troubles can afflict the heart — some less serious than others. While some restrictions are necessary, it is now generally true that patients with any form of heart trouble should be active within the limits of their capacity.

Not all persons with heart ailments can continue working at their same pace. Obviously there are those who require bed rest and often a very strict limitation of physical and mental activity. But there are many who can continue working, performing some type of useful or productive activity, without fear that their hearts will suddenly give out.

A person with a mild heart disorder can in most instances perform any kind of job for which his skills qualify him.

No individual with a heart condition, it should be cautioned, should determine for himself whether he is able to work or not and how much work he can do.

Just as there are many who become cardiac invalids because of fear, there are those at the opposite extreme who ignore proper medical advice and subject their hearts to unnecessary strain and abuse by overactivity. Only a competent physician is qualified to say what are the limits of an impaired heart.

City Barber Shop Leads by Six Games in Mens Bowling

City Barber Shop has once again set the pace in the Business Mens Bowling League, downing the Buffalo Barber Shop three games. K Service has a one game lead for the second berth, with Posters Insurance in third place with a one game lead over Buffalo Barber Shop. Ponds Insurance and the Lions Club are tied for the fifth place seat one game behind fourth place Posters. Vocational Aggies hold a one game edge on the seventh place over the S. W. P. S. Taylors and Sons jumped out of the cellar to gain the ninth spot, while Johnsons and V. F. W. hold the tenth and eleventh place step. Samuelsons are the anchor team for this week.

There has been no change in the individual standings, however, plenty of pressure and several new faces are coming up. We should see some changes as the season nears into the last half of the schedule after this weeks games.

This week will see Posters and Taylors meet, Buffalo Barber Shop and Samuelsons, Vocational Aggies and 1st place City Barber Shop. Thursday will have S.W.P.S. meet the V.F.W., Johnsons and Ponds Insurance and Lions and K. Service.

Troop 66 Attends Area Meeting at Boy Scout Camp

On Saturday, March 10, Boy Scout Troop Number 66 of Canyon went to Camp Don Herrington, the Boy Scout Camp 15 miles northeast of Canyon for the Campore held by the Scouts of this area. Mr. Ed Harrison, the Scoutmaster, and Troop 66 arrived about 10 A. M. at Camp Don Herrington where they joined several troops of Scouts to study and participate in Scout training.

After pitching two tents and then preparing their noon meal, Troop 66 joined in the study of proper use of the Scout ax, knot tying, fire building, proper handling of fire arms and several other activities of scouting.

After supper the boys cleaned their dishes and put the camp in order. Each boy had his own work to do, such as cooking, washing dishes, camp etiquette and preparing his bed roll for the night.

Soon after supper a Venture Service was held in which Gary Humphrey and George Thm aswere promoted to Tender Foot Scouts from Candidate Scouts. The troop performed this ceremony without assistance of the two Committee-men present.

Participating in the campore were 16 troops, and 36 patrols consisting of 25 Scout leaders and 250 boys.

Err Male

A traveller just home from abroad was describing an earthquake.
"Most amazing thing I ever saw," he said dramatically. "The hotel rocked. Cups and saucers were flying all over the room, and—"
His meek-looking companion turned suddenly white.

"Great Scott!" he cried. "That reminds me. I forgot to post a letter my wife gave me two days ago."

PREPARED FOR WAR

At the height of the Christmas shopping rush, a dignified middle-aged gentleman went to a large department store to buy a widely advertised bargain article for his wife.
He soon found himself being buffeted by women shoppers. He stood it as long as he could; then with head lowered and arms flailing, he plowed through the crowd.

"You there!" challenged a shrill voice. "Can't you act like a gentleman?"

"I've been acting like a gentleman for an hour," he shouted back.
"From now on, I'm acting like a lady."

Jump

A young man of burning ambition approached a great merchant and begged him to reveal the secret of his success.

"There is no easy secret," pronounced the merchant. "You must jump at your opportunity."

"But, sir, how can I know when my opportunity comes?"

"You can't," declared the merchant. "You've just got to keep jumping."

To The Point

Most folks are blessed with presence of mind—but their greatest trouble is absence of thought.

Anyway, no one can say that the atom isn't all that it's cracked up to be.

In standard liquid measure two pints make one quart.

Progress is merely the slow process of falling in line with the schemes of minorities.

Big shots are pretty small shots who keep on shooting.

TECHNICAL

A reader asks, "Why is it that radio announcers have such small hands?"

That's simple: Wee paws for station identification.

Persistent Grandpa

It was the worst storm on record.
Finally the dam burst and a raging torrent forced the townfolks to flee to higher ground. From the hill, as they looked down, they noticed a straw hat float slowly downstream for fifty feet or so. Then the hat stopped, turned around and made its way upstream a similar distance. After this performance had been repeated several times, one of the group asked:

"What makes the hat act so darn funny?" And a boy replied:
"Last night I heard Grandpa say that 'come heck or high water he was going to mow the lawn today.'"

Invalid Reason

"Why did you leave your last job?"
"Illness."
"What sort of illness?"
"My boss said he got sick of me."

ONE WAY

The show window of a motor salesroom near Piccadilly was filled with luxurious little vehicles, and so were the vast expanses of floor space within.
There, a high-strung young man was in vain begging one of the officials of the company to let him have a new sports model at once. Finally he flung his arms upward with a despairing gesture and shouted, "How on earth can I get early delivery!"
The official gave him a grim look and replied, "Emigrate!"

SHORT STORY

Faithful Servant

By Maud McCurdy Welch

TIMES WERE HARD in the little town of Centerville and Sam Meadows, the town's only druggist was finding it hard to meet his bills. The shoe factory was shut down, one of the lumber mills had moved away and the other one was running half time.
Sam was a widower and lived economically in two rooms in the back of his store. He'd cut down on a few other things, but things kept getting worse.

Bill Bowen, one of Sam's good friends, came in one day to talk the situation over. "The trouble with you," he told Sam, "is that you're not business-like. How can you expect to run a business successfully if you don't collect?"

"When people are sick, they have to have medicine whether they can pay for it or not," Sam said reasonably.

"But, Sam, you can't carry the whole town on your shoulders. If you go on extending credit, you'll probably find yourself in a bad spot."

Bill went to the door, turned back with a word of warning. "Better think it over, Sam."

Sam sighed. He looked up at the small neon sign over the entrance doors of which he'd always been so proud.
"Meadows Drug Store
Twenty-five years of service."

Bill Bowen was right. After all a druggist has to take a stand somewhere. He has to protect himself.

Sam's next customer was Mary Neely, a tired looking little woman.
Sam knew what she wanted, a prescription re-filled for her brother's neuritis. "It's botherin' him awful today," she said.

Mary's husband had had a good job in the shoe factory, but it had been some time since he'd had a steady job.

But Sam had made up his mind.
He drew a painful breath. "Mary,
you already owe me thirty-five dollars. If you could pay for this prescription maybe . . ." but Sam's voice trailed off unhappily.

Mary's eyes were dazed with surprise. "I haven't any money, but . . ." she broke off. "You mean you . . . you won't let me have the medicine?"

Sam walked to the back of the store, unable to answer. Then suddenly he whirled around. Mary was gone. He hurried after her.

BILL WAS wrong. A man had to have faith. A man has to accept his responsibilities. The health of the people in this town had been entrusted to him. He couldn't fail them, whether they could pay or not.

Sam overtook Mary and said,
"Come back. I'll fill the prescription. I'll also put up some Vitamin B for your brother."

"You're a good man, Sam," Mary said tearfully.

After that when people needed credit, they got it. Sam was as usual on call day or night.

Bill Bowen came to see him again. This time Sam told him that a druggist's responsibilities to his customers was as great as that of a doctor to his patients. Bill tried to argue with him, but Sam shook his head with a smile.

Bill went out and almost collided with Tom Shaver, the young cashier

"The trouble with you," Bill told Sam, "is that you're not business-like. How can you expect to run a business successfully if you don't collect?"

In the bank Sam was filling a prescription for a shabby young man in overalls. He charged it and as the young man started to leave, Sam gave him a doll for his little girl.
Then Sam said, "Well, Tom, what's on your mind?"

Tom Shaver grinned. "Just wanted you to know the old town's waking up. Shoe factory opens next week, a furniture factory coming in and the mill's going to run full time. There'll be jobs for everybody and the people won't forget you, Sam." Tom went to the door, stopped under the neon sign. "I think I'm going to change that to read, 'Twenty-five years of Faithful service.'"

Sam smiled at him. He was remembering a favorite Bible text:
"For we walk by faith, not by sight."

Five Preachers to Assist in Revival At Baptist Church

WITH TOAST

The newly married man and his wife were quarreling, and at the breakfast table, the husband tried to make peace.

"What's for breakfast, darling?"
he asked, with a sweet smile on his face.

"Rats!" came the tart reply.
"All right, dear," replied hubby.
"Cook one for yourself and boil an egg for me."

SOLDIER COST

It costs the United States, on the average $10,000 a year to support a man in uniform. This figure is based on information the Department of Defense sent to the House Armed Services Committee in connection with the Department's proposal for a universal military service and training program.

PAGE THE MAQUIS

"I disapprove of all brutal sports, prize-fighting, angling—"
"Good heavens! How can you name those two sports in the same breath?"
"Why not? Isn't it the object of both pugilist and angler to land a hook in the jaw?"

Harold Flemming, economist:
"Today, in a seller's market, the price of labor appears to act like that of commodities and to tend upwards for 'purely market reasons.'"

George J. Schoeneman, Commissioner of Internal Revenue: "It is only human nature for a taxpayer to take every deduction and every advantage he feels entitled to take under his interpretation of the law."

Reinhold Niebuhr, dean, Union Theological Seminary: "Europe and Asia suspect, perhaps erroneously, that we are more interested in winning a war than in trying to avoid it."

Harold Trott, journalist:
"Jet aviation is proving its tactical superiority in Korea after a slow start."

Pioneer Day Will Be Observed in June at Hereford

Residents of the entire Mid-Plains area are invited to start making preparation for the Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration to be staged in Hereford the last of May or first of June, the definite date to be announced soon.

The first contest which may benefit anyone from the entire area is the naming of the pioneer organization to be established during the celebration. Everyone is eligible to enter the contest. Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, said. He explained that the name should be one which will apply to the entire area, not just a locality. Entries should be mailed or brought to the C of C office in Hereford by Friday, March 23, when they will be judged by the Retail Merchants Committee, which is sponsoring the entire celebration. A prize of $10 or $15 will be presented the person selecting the winning name.

McFarland urged men of the area to start preparing for the big two-day celebration by growing whiskers to compete in the whisker contest. Prizes will be awarded in several contests, including the whisker contest, greased pig contest, greased pole contest, sack race, flour scramble, Old Fiddlers, best cowboy costume, best cowgirl costume, square dance, and horse shoe pitching. McFarland explained the flour scramble — $20 or $25 in half dollar coins are placed on the street and six barrels of flour dumped on top — then the scramble begins.

Prizes will be awarded the best floats in the big parade to be held on Friday of the celebration. All floats are to depict some early stage of Texas history or characteristics of pioneer life. Towns and individuals of the entire Mid-Plains area are invited to participate in the parade.

Nash Thompson Is Victim of Jeep Crash in Korea

SAN ANTONIO. Those Texans who fought the brush fights along the Indian war-paths would do all right in the infantry's battle in Korea.

Take it from Lt. Col. Nash Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Thompson, 2463 Camilla, Fort Worth, who is recuperating at Brooke Army Hospital from injuries received in a jeep crash in Korea.

He compares the Chinese and the North Korean Reds to "crazed and savage Indians one sees in the movies."

"There's no comparison between the enemy in Korea and German troops," the veteran of many European campaigns said. "German troops fought with organization and regimentation, while these fanatics fight like frenzied animals."

He mused, "I'd like to see some of the old-time Texas Indian fighters over there. They'd know more how to cope with the enemy's tactics."

Colonel Thompson went on active duty status in March 1942 and after participating in the European theater was assigned in Washington as senior instructor in the Organized Reserve Corps.

He entered the Korean fighting on July 18. He served as battalion officer with an artillery unit.

His wife, Mrs. Mary E. Thompson, maintains a residence in Shamrock. He is a graduate of Polytechnic High School and Texas A&M. He was assistant county agent for Randall County from September 1936 to November 1940 and then served as county agent for Oldham County from November 1940 until his entry into service.

He was awarded the Bronze Star for heroism during World War II.
